How does the AR viewfinder improve the photo taking experience? The AR viewfinder is functional and ergonomically designed, so it also improves the photo-taking experience. For example, you don't need to keep holding the camera to know what part of the subject is in focus while framing the photo. You can see the focus through the AR viewfinder, adjust the focus in real time, and still keep shooting. It's also easy to identify exactly where the subject is in the viewfinder. You can click it with the right button or use the touch pad on the left side to select a part of the image and focus on that. 5. How do you get a preview of the AR viewfinder? Open the menu (back button) and select AR viewfinder. You'll see a green lens that you can see through. You can also change it to monochrome or sepia, or turn the AR viewfinder off and on. 6. What are the other benefits of using the included green lens? There are a few benefits using the green lens: you can see through it in daylight, it doesn't get dirty, and you can adjust the focus more easily. It's also a very useful tool if you have an iPhone 4S/5, because the camera is no longer in focus. 7. How do I lock the focus and exposure for a faster photo? Use the frame lock button (while holding the shutter button, not releasing it) to stop the camera from auto-focusing and to take a shot. Release the shutter button while holding the frame lock button to stop it from staying on. This is a very helpful technique for taking photos of moving objects, sports, or taking photos with kids. 8. How do you adjust the brightness of the viewfinder? Open the menu and select the AR viewfinder. Select the brightness slider to adjust the brightness of the viewfinder. You can also turn it off and on.
