I have tried this: var items = (List)MyObsCollection; But I get an exception: System.InvalidCastException: Specified cast is not valid. A: Try this (from the ObservableCollection documentation): var list = (List) MyObsCollection; A: Your original code is correct. The exception is likely because you are trying to do it in the context of a windows form. You probably need to do this in the context of the Main thread: using System; using System.Collections.ObjectModel; namespace SomeNamespace { public class MainClass { public static void Main(string[] args) { var items = (List)MyObsCollection; MessageBox.Show(string.Format("Items: {0}", items.Count)); } } } Q: Display Title in Navigation Bar of Navigation Bar I have a navigation bar where I have set the title to be dynamic. I want to have the title display in the navigation bar. I know that I can get the title in the navigation bar and view it in a textview, but I want to be able to change the title from code. This is how I get

The Problem: Disk Cleanup uninstalled / partially uninstalled my ESET NOD32 Antivirus!
Solution: i tried several different version versions and i tried to install the ESET NOD32 antivirus, but the message i get is "ESET NOD32 Antivirus requires a 32-bit (x86) version of Windows. This version is not available. Please click on OK to exit" and then the uninstall of the ESET NOD32 Antivirus didn't complete. The message ESET NOD32 Antivirus requires a 32-bit (x86) version of Windows. This version is not available. Please click on OK to exit" is no help in this situation...how can i deinstall this programm? it's not possible to unistall from the ESET NOD32 Antivirus Software Management console even after doing a repair.. i did system restore to 9/17/2013 and still not able to remove the ESET NOD32 Antivirus. i unistalled it from there, still the same thing I can't uninstall it from the ESET NOD32 Antivirus Software Management console, and i don't have a second computer i can do a repair from to get my computer back to it's default settings. the ESET NOD32 Antivirus icon is still there in my computer after trying to uninstall it from the Software Management console I went into Windows Details and got this message "The following error was detected during system startup:'msconfig is not a valid win32 application' Press ctrl alt delete and then click 'OK' to terminate the program. (Error 1072)" I tried uninstalling ESET NOD32 Antivirus through "ESET NOD32 Antivirus Software Management Console" but it failed with the message "program is not registered" I ran Microsoft Troubleshooter to no avail. It said "I could not repair the computer. The system cannot start up. To repair, try starting the computer from a compatible CD or DVD." I run the code and it said "If this happens again, tell Windows" I tried using the Easy Repair Disc by going through computer properties/Tools/Repair... but I got this message "This tool cannot be used to repair your computer. It is not registered for this system." I tried going through Microsoft's website for a troubleshooter program but 79a2804d6b
